FARM FRESH EGGS WITHOUT THE FARM

Seattle's FIRST chicken rental company makes having backyard chickens easy.

TUKWILA, WA, August 30, 2018 - The entire country has been clucking about backyard chicken rentals and now Seattlites can join in. Tukwila, WA based company Hens 4 Hire will deliver two egg laying hens, a custom built hen house, organic feed and everything else you need to care for the hens, all you do is collect fresh organic eggs. When your rental period is over you can extend the rental, purchase the entire package or Hens 4 Hire will pick everything up. In addition to the benefit of farm fresh organic eggs, the hens are a great learning tool for children. Fortunately you'll be able to return this pet once the child's interest have moved on.

Hens 4 Hire offers up grades that include an automatic battery powered door that opens at sunrise and closes at sunset, as well as an automatic waterer that attaches to a standard garden hose. In fact, you can customize your hen house package to be completely automated so all you have to do is collect the fresh organic eggs. The company also plans to add hen house cleaning services before the end of the year.

Hens 4 Hire owner, Travis Overly, learned about the chicken rental business while doing research to better care for his own backyard flock. "I discovered chicken rental businesses were flourishing in places all over the country, yet no one was offering this service here in the Puget Sound area. Considering how conscientious we are in the northwest of being healthy and buying locally sourced foods from organic self sustaining farms I thought it would be a great fit." Travis talked his long time friend and roommate Bryan Johnson into joining him in the venture and the two started Tuckerberry Farm, LLC which owns Hens 4 Hire.

Hens 4 Hire is a Hen House Rental company serving the Puget Sound area. We encourage people to experience the many joys of backyard hens not the least of which includes the fresh organic eggs. Hens 4 Hire offers all inclusive Hen House Rental Packages, along with a crash course in proper care, that makes getting started and caring for hens easy for anyone.
